

Just Right®

Liriope muscari 'LIRJ'

Just Right's consistent height is very important for mass plantings.

Just Right is a much better alternative to the popular Liriope Evergreen Giant. Its leaves simply feel stronger and more robust, and burns less in the sun and in frosts. They are also finer, making the clump look more dense and compact.

Unfortunately, Evergreen Giant is no longer a stable variety. Nurseries all over Australia have been growing it from seed for years, and it now comes in all different shapes and sizes. Even division grown forms are now extremely variable. So if you ask for 100 Liriope Evergreen Giant's, you may get 30 or so different forms. Just Right will always be exactly the same size, as it comes only from division, or Tissue Culture. Some Evergreen Giant forms grow to 700 or 800 mm tall. Other forms of Liriope are too small to compete with weeds. Just Right is just the right size, at an average height of 45cm to 55cm. Just Right remains more evergreen than any other Liriope in drought, cold or wet, making it the best Landscape Liriope available. It is also more tolerant of phytophthora than Evergreen Giant. Just Right has so far, over 6 years never produced a viable seed, so it has little chance of coming up in the bush on its own, where as Evergreen Giant, seeds a lot.
